Synopsis:

In this hilarious and outlandish story, the lives of six teenagers from a Canadian chamber choir are cut short in a freak accident aboard a roller coaster. When they awake in limbo, a mechanical fortune teller invites each to tell a story to win a prize like no other – the chance to return to life. This musical is a funny, moving look at what makes a life well-lived!

Roles:

The Amazing Karnak

Male - 35-50

non-singing role; the narrator; a mechanical fortune-telling machine.

Ocean O'Connell Rosenberg

Female - 18-25

The leader of the group, relentlessly competitive, sometimes cruel, though she sees herself as a virtuous person; high Broadway mix, with a pop quality; big range.

Misha Bachinski

Male - 18-25

Adopted from the Ukraine as a teenager; he has a thick Ukrainian dialect and a lot of rage; he is obsessed with Hip-Hop and Rap (an enormous fan of the auto-tune phenomena); there is a hidden, soulful romantic side; Baritenor with the ability to sing lyrical Ukrainian folk music as well as rap.

Noel Gruber

Male - 18-25

The only gay kid in Uranium; never had a relationship; obsessed with French New Wave cinema, he has fantasies of dying a tragic death. Baritenor who must be able to sing in the style of a French chanteuse.

Ricky Potts

Male - 18-25

Begins the play wordless and on crutches; suffers from a degenerative disease that has left him speechless and mostly immobile; he discovers at the beginning of the play that in this strange purgatory, he has regained all of these abilities. Baritone rock voice; basic accordion and/or tumbling a plus.

Constance Blackwood

Female - 18-25

An uncertain girl with deep self loathing. Will do anything for Ocean's friendship and allows herself to be used as a doormat; dubbed "the nicest girl in town," a title she secretly despises. Very likable comic actress; alto belt, with a rock edge.

Jane Doe

Female - 18-25

She was decapitated in the accident and no one claimed her body; even though she isn't headless in the piece (but often carries around a headless doll). She reacts in a literal way and largely without emotion, almost robot-like; the other contestants are totally freaked out by her. Classically trained soprano with a flexible coloratura upper range, and some grit and meat in the lower register.
